

GOD BRINGS THE GENTILES INTO A COVENANT RELATIONSHIP WITH HIM

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

God selected one man – Abraham – and made a covenant with him and his descendants; as Genesis chapter 15 tells us whereby the descendants of Abraham would be established in the land of Israel and would enjoy a special relationship with God.

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

God's covenant with Abraham was unilateral, that is, it was a promise made by God, which did not require Abraham to do anything to benefit from it.

To make this absolutely clear, God put Abraham to sleep whilst this covenant was made, as we see in Genesis 15:12.

“As the sun was setting, Abram fell into a deep sleep, and a thick and dreadful darkness came over him.” (Genesis 15:12 NIV)

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

Circumcision was a sign of the covenant not a condition of it.

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

But, this unilateral covenant with Abraham, was supplemented by a bilateral conditional covenant with the descendants of Abraham, when God made a new and further covenant with the descendants of Abraham, as we learn from Exodus 19:3-8.

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

This further covenant was a conditional covenant (unlike the covenant made with Abraham and his descendants) which required the Israelites to obey the laws which God had given them at Mount Sinai – and which the Israelites had agreed to obey (Exodus 19:8).

“The people all responded together, “We will do everything the LORD has said.” So Moses brought their answer back to the LORD.” (Exodus 19:8 NIV)

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

Listen to what the prophet Jeremiah says:

This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: "Listen to the terms of this covenant and tell them to the people of Judah and to those who live in Jerusalem. Tell them that this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Cursed is the man who does not obey the terms of this covenant—the terms I commanded your forefathers when I brought them out of Egypt, out of the iron-smelting furnace.' I said, 'Obey me and do everything I command you, and you will be my people, and I will be your God. Then I will fulfil the oath I swore to your forefathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey'—the land you possess today." I answered, "Amen, LORD." The LORD said to me, "Proclaim all these words in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem: 'Listen to the terms of this covenant and follow them. From the time I brought your forefathers up from Egypt until today, I warned them again and again, saying, "Obey me." But they did not listen or pay attention; instead, they followed the stubbornness of their evil hearts. So I brought on them all the curses of the covenant I had commanded them to follow but that they did not keep.'"" (Jeremiah 11:1-8 NIV)

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

God made a new unilateral covenant, not just with the Jewish people, but with the whole of humankind:

After taking the cup, [Jesus] gave thanks and said, "Take this and divide it among you. For I tell you I will not drink again of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God comes." And he took bread, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, "This is my body given for you; do this in remembrance of me." In the same way, after the supper he took the cup, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you." (Luke 22:17-20 NIV)

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

Christ was crucified and bore in his body all the sins that have been and will be committed by mankind.

He who was sinless was made sin for us.

He paid the penalty for our sins – which was death – in order that we would not be condemned for our sins, but rather be justified before God and reconciled to Him.

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

Look at verses 11-12:

Therefore, remember that formerly you who are Gentiles by birth and called "uncircumcised" by those who call themselves "the circumcision" (that done in the body by the hands of men)—remember that at that time you were separate from Christ, excluded from citizenship in Israel and foreigners to the covenants of the promise, without hope and without God in the world." (Ephesians 2:11-12 NIV)

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

The pious Jew was ever conscious of the privileges which he had inherited: daily he thanked God that he had not been made a Gentile, because God had revealed himself to the Jews in a unique way.

Listen to what Psalm 147 says:

He has done this for no other nation; they do not know his laws. Praise the LORD.” (Psalm 147:20 NIV)

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

The external sign of the Jews' special relationship with God was circumcision, the seal of the covenant which God had made with their ancestor Abraham (see Genesis 17:9–14).

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

For the Jews the 'uncircumcission' of the Gentiles was a sign of their estrangement from God, but Paul had now learned that physical circumcision in the flesh was irrelevant; indeed he dismissed it as 'a mutilation' (Philippians 3:2).

What was relevant was a circumcision (or cleansing) of the heart.

"Watch out for those dogs, those men who do evil, those mutilators of the flesh." (Philippians 3:2 NIV)

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

Look at verses 13-18 of our reading:

But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far away have been brought near through the blood of Christ. For he himself is our peace, who has made the two one and has destroyed the barrier, the dividing wall of hostility, by abolishing in his flesh the law with its commandments and regulations. His purpose was to create in himself one new man out of the two, thus making peace, and in his one body to reconcile both of them to God through the cross, by which he put to death their hostility. He came and preached peace to you who were far away and peace to those who were near. For through him we both have access to the Father by one Spirit.” (Ephesians 2:13-18 NIV)

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

The new situation “in Christ Jesus” has changed everything.

Gentiles, who were previously “far away” have now been brought near” through Christ’s blood because the new covenant in Christ’s blood is universal.

It’s for all mankind, for anyone and everyone who turns to Christ in faith acknowledging him as their Lord and Master.

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

However, it is not the law as a revelation of the character and will of God that has been done away with in Christ.

In that sense of the term the question and answer of Romans 3:31 remain valid:

“Do we then overthrow the law by this faith? By no means! On the contrary, we uphold the law.”

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

The law as a written code, threatening death instead of imparting life, is done away with in Christ, as Paul explains in 2 Corinthians 3:6–15.

When the law in that sense is done away with, the barrier between Jews and Gentiles is removed; Jewish particularism and Gentile exclusion are things of the past.

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

Let's move on and look at verses 19 - 22 of our reading:

Consequently, you are no longer foreigners and aliens, but fellow-citizens with God's people and members of God's household, built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Christ Jesus himself as the chief cornerstone. In him the whole building is joined together and rises to become a holy temple in the Lord. And in him you too are being built together to become a dwelling in which God lives by his Spirit." (Ephesians 2:19-22 NIV)

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

Against this apparent demotion of Gentile Christians Paul protested vigorously at Antioch (Galatians 2:11-14), and it is Paul's attitude that finds uncompromising expression here.

Gentile Christians are not adherents or visitors or second-rate citizens in the believing community; they are full members.

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

The new community, God's fellowship of reconciliation, transcends all distinctions of race, status, and sex.

Properly oriented to the one cornerstone, based on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Gentile Christians, along with their fellow-believers of Jewish birth, belonged equally to God's holy house.

COVENANT WITH THE GENTILES

Well it's perfectly clear that we must respect and fully accept all Christian believers – male and female, rich and poor, black and white into our church community.

We must befriend them and make them all equal parts of our church and build them into the structure of God's kingdom here in this place, just as Paul urged the bringing in of Jews and Gentiles together in the first century AD.
