

Central Var Fellowship Group

From September we hope to have a twice a month English language fellowship group in the Lorgues and central Var area. This program will be run by Chris and Alison Walley under the authority of Holy Trinity Church Cannes.

The general format has been approved by both Giles Williams as Area Dean and Archdeacon Peter Hooper. Although some things are experimental and so subject to modification what is proposed is as follows.

- We will aim to meet twice a month in daytime during the week.
- Initially at least the location will be homes and we will aim to alternate between a number of venues depending on availability and issues such as car parking.
- The two meetings each month will be different. The first will be a straightforward discussion study based on a Bible passage or theme with prayer. The second will be a more formal service with communion, conducted by someone with an Anglican Permission to Officiate.
- At the moment the preferred day and time seems to be from 11 o'clock Friday morning with coffee and chat from 10:30. Each meeting will be followed by a communal meal which will be a simple bring-and-share affair.
- For the welfare and comfort of everyone we will be making it a rule that attendees should be doubly-vaccinated against Covid.
- In order to keep people up to date with what's happening and to provide something of pastoral and prayer support we intend building up an email list and possibly a WhatsApp group. This will also serve as a way to keep everybody in touch and a channel for prayer requests.

Although we are open to the group developing into something bigger, better and more formal, for the moment this is all it is envisaged.

We hope to have our first meeting on Friday 10th September at the house of Chris and Alison Walley, 268 Corniche de St Ferréol, Lorgues.

Looking forward to seeing you!
